

Dewey Drive Gets Up Steam For Victory By Third Ballot

Hoarse GOP Orators Run On 'til Dawn

BY HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—Amid traditional fanfare and tumult, the Republican National Convention early today heard the last of seven names presented to it as candidates for the presidency.

Dawn was barely an hour distant when the noisy speech-making session came to a husky-throated end at 4:02 a. m. Weary, bleary-eyed delegates were told to be back in their places at 2 p. m. (1 p. m. EST) to start the serious business of picking the party's 1948 standard bearer.

Interspersed by demonstrations ranging from two to 38 minutes, the sales-talk oratory presented the names of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Gov. Earl Warren of California, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Senator Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur of Wisconsin.

MacArthur, proposed for nomination shortly before 4 a. m. (Philadelphia Daylight Time), received the shortest of the ovations from the by then exhausted delegates. A round of applause lasting about two minutes greeted the mention of his name.

Taft took the prize for the longest demonstration—38 minutes. Dewey's lasted 32, Warren's 26, Stassen's 25 and Vandenberg's and Baldwin's about six minutes each.

Greek Troops Pound Rebels With Bombs

Red Guerrillas Admit Terrific Losses

Second Army Corps Headquarters, Kozane, Greece, June 24 (AP)—The Greek army rained 500-pound firebombs today on Communist rebels fighting desperately to defend the eastern flank of their Grammos mountain stronghold.

Captured guerrillas said their losses on Amouda ridge, northwest of Nestorion, were "terrific." They were slammed by artillery and planes all day yesterday.

A high-ranking Greek officer said the tough Amouda fight, though apparently holding up the army's advance, was serving the purpose of a powerful offensive aimed at smashing the Communist rebellion.

"Our job is to kill and destroy bandits," the officer said. "That's what's happening on Amouda."

Unofficial reports listed nearly 600 guerrilla casualties since the offensive started Sunday night. Rebel Leader Markos Vafiades was reported then to have about 7,000 men in the 1,000-mile-square Grammos pocket.

MILLION TEACHERS NEEDED

Ann Arbor (AP)—Increasing enrollments in American schools will call for a million additional teachers by 1960, Dean J. B. Edmonson of University of Michigan School of Education said Wednesday. He delivered the first of a summer series of lectures on education.

Sigler Nominates Vandenberg Without Parade Or Fanfare

By JACK GREEN
AP Special Service

Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's name was placed before the Republican convention early today with the same simplicity and nonconformity which has marked Michigan's pre-convention attempts to gain him the presidential nomination.

Gov. Kim Sigler, without the Senator's consent, placed his name in nomination at 2:30 a. m. (EST) today, near the end of a hectic night session.

The Vandenberg nomination procedure was different, at least. Sigler ordered the delegates not to parade in the conventional stream around the hall, but to gather under the Michigan banner beneath the rostrum and "give a cheer" for Vandenberg.

Thirteen States Help
The convention hall was less than half filled when Sigler spoke, but soon delegates, one and two from a state, slipped down the aisle to plant their banners beside Michigan's.

There were standards there from Massachusetts, Vermont, Maine, Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Indiana, Nebraska, Montana, Kansas and Ohio, apparently representing islands of support or sympathy in those states.

In comparison with the elaborate stage shows pulled into the hall by the other major candidates, Vandenberg's forces had two hand-lettered signs to wave, each bearing an artist's likeness of the Senator's face.

The "demonstration" was in keeping with Vandenberg's insistence on no campaign at all. Harry D. McDonald, Detroit businessman, called on the entire audience to rise and sing the university of Michigan's famed marching song "The Victors." Then he had them sing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," then "God Bless America."

U. S. Senator Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) seconded Vandenberg's nomination briefly.

Corn Crop Coming Good Down In Iowa

Fields To Be More Than Knee High By July 4

BY WILLIAM FERRIS
Chicago, June 24 (AP)—More than knee high by the Fourth of July appeared to be a certainty today for the nation's all important corn crop.

Traditionally, corn should be knee high by July 4 if the country is to have a good harvest. It already is knee high in several mid-west areas and growing rapidly as a result of heavy rains in the past 48 hours.

That's good news to everyone who eats. Corn is a basic grain used mainly as a livestock and poultry feed. High prices now posted in grocery and meat stores are attributable at least in part to last year's short corn production.

Crop experts cautioned the crop is a long, long way from being "made." It will need timely rains in July and August—what it lacked in last year's drought—to come through to a big harvest as desired. But right now the outlook has seldom, if ever, been better.

H. J. Gramlich, agriculture agent for the Chicago and North Western Railway, who returned here today from a survey through Iowa, said corn in that state was "coming forward by leaps and bounds."

"There is a big acreage and it's off to a wonderful start," Gramlich said. "There has been no flood damage, which contrasts sharply with last year at this time."

Escanaba Salesman Falls Dead At Farm

Mason, Mich., June 24 (AP)—John Q. Thompson, 64, of Escanaba dropped dead on a farm east of here last night. Justice Roy Adams, acting as coroner, listed the cause of death as a heart attack. Sheriff's deputies said Thompson, a salesman, had stopped at the William Kyser farm to sell fence posts. Returning over a field to his truck, Thompson fell dead.

LIGHTNING KILLS BOY
Muskegon (AP)—Struck by lightning as he returned from work on a neighboring farm, 16-year-old Darryle Maycroft was killed Tuesday night. His body was found Wednesday, 100 feet from his father's barn.

PRISONER IN CLOSET — After freeing 5½-year-old Sharon Stewart from a filth-ridden closet, suffering from malnutrition, San Francisco Juvenile Probation Officer Esther Litchfield questions her young charge. Child's continuous crying prompted neighbors to call authorities, who found closet door jammed with bureau and Sharon's clothes stuffed in a crack under the door. The father was reported to be on a fishing trip and the mother at the beach with two other children, Michael, 6, and Judy, 3. (NEA Telephoto)

Air Crashes Kill Two, Set Fire In Heart Of Detroit

Detroit, June 24 (AP)—The Navy launched an inquiry today into a spectacular crash of two fighter planes that set off raging fires in three homes and a factory in the heart of Detroit.

Witnessed by thousands, the crash took the lives of two naval reserve pilots whose planes collided in mid-air yesterday afternoon while flying in a formation of seven. Both pilots were students at Michigan State college.

Police and firemen agreed that only "a miracle" saved scores of persons from death or serious injury when the planes careened out of the sky.

The crash occurred just after the formation winged over Briggs Stadium where a ball game was in progress.

The first craft lost a wing; the second was sheared in two. They plunged crazily from their height of approximately 2,000 feet and landed in the thickly populated east side of Detroit, just off Gratiot Ave.

Capt. C. S. Cooper, commanding officer of the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station, identified the victims as Ensign J. H. Nicholson, 25, of Scranton, Ia., and Ensign Roy E. Schultheiss, 24, of Port Huron, Mich.

Schultheiss' plane, a Corsair, spun into the Putnam Tool Co., where between 60 and 70 men were working, injuring one man. The Hellcat piloted by Nicholson, its wing torn off, crashed into a home occupied by three families. It exploded on the impact, shooting flaming gasoline over two adjacent houses.

The crash attracted several thousand persons to the scene and tied up Gratiot Ave. traffic for hours. The fires destroyed the three homes and caused damage in the Putnam plant, estimated at more than $100,000.

Unofficially, naval pilots blamed "air bumps" for the collision. It was a hot, humid day and pilots reported the air was full of convection currents that probably caused one pilot to slip while making the turn.

Favorite Sons Get Ready To Jump On Rolling Bandwagon

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—The first 16 states voting in the Republican convention's first presidential nomination roll call gave:

Dewey 112, Stassen 32, Taft 55, Vandenberg 5, Warren 54, Green 56, Baldwin 19, MacArthur 3.

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—The Republican National Convention started its first roll call vote for nomination of a 1948 presidential candidate today at 1:35 p. m. (EST).

Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—The tide for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, already swirling the Republican presidential nomination close to his grasp, swelled higher today.

Massachusetts' Senator Leverett Saltonstall got out as a "Favorite Son" in Dewey's favor. West Virginia gave him a boost.

Berlin Power And Food Cut Off By Russia

BY EDWIN SHANKE
Berlin, June 24 (AP)—The Russians tightened their squeeze on Berlin today. They cut off electric power to the western Allies' sectors of the city and halted all food shipments on rail lines running from western Germany.

The official Soviet and German Communist press demanded anew that the western Allies quit the city.

However, Gen. Lucius D. Clay said the Russians "cannot drive us out of Berlin by any action short of war."

The American military governor said at Heidelberg the latest moves of the Soviets indicate they "are trying to put on the final pressure to drive us out of Berlin."

In Warsaw the foreign ministers of Russia and seven of her satellite countries were reliably reported to be putting the last touches on plans to set up a separate government in eastern Germany.

The Berlin power shutdown affected the United States, British and French zones. The only areas spared were those where hospitals or other important public institutions are located.

The Soviet-controlled Berlin radio announced the western sectors must expect more power shutoffs during the night. This amounted to a warning of day and night cutoffs apparently intended to prevent factories which shut down during the day from

Federal Court Bars Strikes In Shipping

Work Stoppage Blocked On Great Lakes

New York, June 24 (AP)—New federal court orders barring threatened shipping strikes on three coasts and in the Great Lakes region were in effect today.

The orders were issued in New York, San Francisco and Cleveland yesterday—on the eve of the expiration of temporary strike bans obtained by the government.

In New York, the full force of a Taft-Hartley law clause was invoked by Federal Judge John W. Clancy who extended a 10-day restraining order to an 80-day anti-strike injunction.

The "cooling off" order affects 70,000 shipping workers—members of the CIO Maritime Union and two other CIO unions—on the east and Gulf coasts.

In San Francisco, Judge George P. Harris extended for another 10 days the temporary restraining order issued June 14 against five unions representing 30,000 workers.

He withheld a ruling on four motions of dismissal the government's request for an 80-day injunction.

In Cleveland, Judge Emerich B. Freed also extended for 10 days a NMU against Great Lakes shipping.

Tivoli will borrow $1,500,000 from the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York to finance the purchase, Colby said.

Quadruplet Babies Reunited Today In Latrobe, Pa. Home

Latrobe, Pa., June 24 (AP)—The Zavada quadruplets were reunited today.

Three little girls—all blonde and blue eyed—were taken home yesterday to join their brother, John Michael. The quads were born last Feb. 15 two months prematurely.

Andrew and Barbara Zavada—the parents—brought a sleepy-eyed John Michael to the hospital when they called for the rest of their family.

John Michael yawned and shut his eyes at the homecoming. Mother Zavada, 26, smiled and said she expected to have lots of fun with her "human treasure."

Zavada said optimistically, "I only hope they'll sleep until 5 a. m."

Michigan State College forestry students will come to the Escanaba area in four groups this summer as part of their study of forestry utilization and recreation facilities, it was announced today by A. T. Wilcox, East Lansing, assistant professor of forestry.

There will be 20 students in each of the four groups, and the trips are a part of their field work in the regular summer camp course at Dunbar Forest Experiment Station near Sault Ste. Marie.

Iron River—Earl H. Melstrom, of Iron River, owner of Melstrom's Walgreen Drugs, here, was elected president of the U. P. Division, Michigan State Pharmaceutical association, at the closing business session of the 14th annual convention in the Iron Inn Tuesday afternoon.

Melstrom, who served as vice-president last year and chairman of the convention held here and in Crystal Falls yesterday and Monday, succeeds C. R. Johnson, of Ishpeming.

The 1949 convention will be a joint affair with the state association, June 14-15, at the Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island.

Joseph D. Cota, of Escanaba, was named vice-president of the U. P. division to succeed Melstrom. E. L. Pohl, of Escanaba, secretary, and W. J. Hebbard, of Ishpeming, treasurer, were re-elected. Five members of the board of directors also were re-named for another year, as follows: B. W. Flood, of Sault Ste. Marie; F. A. Putvin, of Munising; L. W. Olson, of Escanaba; G. J. Trier, of Ironwood, and C. R. Siddall, of Manistiquie.

Honored at the gathering here was Louis Stoekly, proprietor of Stoekly's Drugs here, oldest active druggist in the Peninsula.

MANY THANKS

To all our friends who participated in the celebration of our Wedding Dance at Breezy Point Monday Night.

We offer our sincere thanks. This event and the thoughts behind it gave us indescribable pleasure. We assure all who attended that we will always have enjoyable memories of this occasion.

Baruna Wins Yacht Race, Apparently

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 24 (P)—The Baruna, a 71-foot yawl owned by Henry C. Taylor of New York, apparently has won its second Newport, R. I. to Bermuda yacht race.

Results are still unofficial although the sleek, black hulled craft is assured of class A honors.

The Baruna completed the 635 miles in three days, 15 hours, nine minutes and 45 seconds. It had a handicap of 10 minutes and 35 seconds, making its official corrected time three days, 14 hours, 59 minutes and 10 seconds.

The Baruna won the race in 1938.

2,000 FARMERS AT GRASS DAY

Demonstration At Harris
Is Well Attended

Pasture renovation, weed control by spraying, application of phosphate on alfalfa and fertilizing methods were demonstrated yesterday to an estimated audience of 2,000 farm people from Delta, Menominee and Dickinson counties. The program was at the David Flynn farm near Harris.

Despite the doubtful weather forecast for the day, and the necessity to switch demonstration plots and make last-minute arrangements the program was considered highly successful. The demonstration was one of three held this week in the Upper Peninsula. Others were in Chippewa and Baraga counties.

Arranged by Agents
The "Grass Day" demonstrations are directed by Michigan State College extension service, with farm machine dealers cooperating. Gail Bowers, Menominee county agent, Frank Molinaire of Dickinson, and J. L. Heirman of Delta arranged the program.

They were assisted by D. L. Clamahan of Marquette, J. G. Wells Jr. of Chatham, George Anderson and Earl C. Richardson of East Lansing, and others of MSC extension service. Among those attending was Earl Van Drell, agricultural agent for the Milwaukee Road.

In the morning a pasture renovation demonstration was held, with machinery from five manufacturers using their equipment in separate plots. Within an hour the old sod was torn up and the one-and-one-half-acre area reseeded.

Lunch was served at noon by the 4-H Service Clubs of the three counties, assisted by the county 4-H club agents.

Demonstrations Given
The afternoon program included a tour of the several demonstrations, including the following:

The effect of grazing alfalfa too short in the fall, and the effect of fertilizer upon alfalfa hay; a demonstration of eight different oat varieties and three barley varieties; and a demonstration of

Extent Of Security Aid To Be Told In New Radio Series

Wage earners with children should realize that in case of their death their social security protection may represent more cash to their survivors than all other assets put together.

This fact, emphasized by Carl L. Johnson, manager of the Escanaba social security office, is one of many revelations to be discussed in a new series of radio broadcasts to be presented over WDBC, the Escanaba station, by the local social security office, beginning at 1:30 Friday afternoon. The program will be presented each Friday at that time.

The first program, he said, shows how a young couple with two children could benefit up to $12,000 by the time the children reach 18 years of age if the wage earner has been working steadily for 10 years and is covered by social security.

His old age and survivors insurance would provide monthly benefits to the family averaging from $50 to $85 a month. Depending on the age of children, benefits would total from $6,000 to $12,000.

Johnson emphasized the necessity of filing on time to avoid permanent loss of some social security benefits. All persons covered by social security are asked to pay a personal visit to the security office upon reaching the age of 65, and when a wage earner dies, it is advised that a member of the immediate family inquire without delay about his or her benefits.

Based on the theme of "Your Stake In Social Security," the local radio programs will take up several classes of wage earners and show their special investments in "this Federal family insurance system," Johnson said.

Testing Public Reaction

THE CITY of Escanaba electrical department will place into operation on an experimental basis tonight four mercury vapor lamps in the 1100 block of Ludington street, replacing eight standard design lamps that have been in use in the block.

In subsequent weeks it is planned to install similar mercury vapor lamps in other test sections of Ludington street, the lamps in each area to be produced by different manufacturers. In this way is planned to determine by public reaction whether the mercury vapor lamps are preferred by the public and if so, which type of lamp is regarded as most practical.

The city has virtually no investment in the experiment, which is planned simply to test public reaction. If the people like the new lights in preference to the old, presumably a general installation will be made on Ludington street. If they do not like the mercury vapor lamps, the city will put the old lamps back into the lamp standards. The experiment sounds interesting, not only for the information that it should bring regarding the two types of lighting systems but also because it is an experiment in public reaction. It will be interesting to see how many persons actually convey their opinions to the city officials.

Guard Gains Strength

THE NATIONAL Guard probably will reach full strength during the next few days as young men enlist in the reserve force to attain exemption from the draft. Encouragement is given to the procedure by the apparently willful delay in final enactment of the draft legislation.

Once the president signs the draft bill subsequent enlistments in the National Guard no longer will bring draft exemption. Neither Senator Vandenberg nor Speaker Martin on behalf of the Senate nor Speaker Truman on behalf of the House has signed the draft bill yet. Then it will go to President Truman who has 10 days in which to affix his signature. It is expected that the president will delay signing the bill until the National Guard reaches its authorized strength or until the final day that the bill is legally in his possession.

In Delta county there are vacancies in the National Guard for only about two dozen men and these vacancies are expected to be filled shortly. Many other units, however, have larger vacancies and the enlistment offices in those areas are being kept open day and night to accommodate the rush of applicants.

Service in the National Guard constitutes a substantial contribution to the cause of national defense and we heartily recommend it to those young men who otherwise will be called for military service anyway through the medium of the draft.

Sweden's King Gustav

IT IS A wonder that King Gustav V of Sweden was able to stand up under the celebration which marked his 90th birthday—15 hours of parades, speeches, gifts, feasts and fireworks, and six changes of uniform for the honored monarch. But the king has stood up under many worse ordeals in his 40 years on the throne. And his survival is, to a great extent, to his own credit.

When Gustav became king in 1907, such spectacles as the one he went through on his birthday were part of the usual trappings of monarchy. State visits and the like were part of the bread-and-circuses routine.

But such pomp was not to Gustav's liking. Succeeding to the throne as an "old man" of nearly 50, he immediately tipped over the apple cart of tradition by refusing to go through the elaborate ceremony of a coronation. He set a democratic pattern quite unusual for the period.

Today only one monarch, the retired Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, remains of those who sat on Europe's thrones when Gustav became king. Not only the monarchs, but most of the monarchies have vanished. King Gustav has seen the slightly controlled despotism of Kaiser Wilhelm and Czar Nicholas replaced by the uncontrolled despotism of Mussolini, Hitler and Stalin.

Yet Sweden's king has helped hold his country steady against the tides of absolutism that have threatened it on all sides. In two crises he stubbornly resisted the attempts to make Sweden abandon her neutrality. And by playing up the independence and indispensability of his country and its people, he helped Sweden to escape invasion.

All this time the democratic simplicity of King Gustav's life has mirrored the growing democracy of his country. Though he liked to play tennis as "Mr. G."—and did, until two years ago—and while he enjoyed the theater and Riviera vacations, the life of the king and the royal family has not been one of useless luxury.

He has encouraged his family to be active and useful. Many of his numerous progeny have distinguished themselves in various fields—art, science, business, athletics. Count Bernadotte, who is attempting to mediate the Palestine dispute, is his nephew.

Sweden's government has been controlled for several years by the socialist Labor Party, which is pledged to do away with the monarchy. But its leaders apparently have had a hard time convincing the Swedes that their aged king is a reactionary menace to their well being. The evidence seems to be all in the other direction.

At 90, King Gustav has lived longer—though not reigned longer—than did the venerable Queen Victoria and the old Emperor Franz Josef of Austria. But he is not of their time or temper, though he was their contemporary. Rather he stands as an enduring symbol of Europe's change for the better, and as a man who led rather than followed the trend toward democracy. As such he is also a symbol of hope, outside his country as well as within it, that the freedom that he has fostered will prevail.

Lewis Wins In Court

JUDGE T. ALAN GOLDSBOROUGH, who has twice fined John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers Union for contempt of court, Tuesday opened the way for prevention of another costly coal strike in July by refusing to block payment of $100 per month pensions for retired miners.

The $100 monthly pensions were authorized by a majority vote of the miners' welfare board, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire joining with John L. Lewis on the issue with Ezra Van Horn, trustee for the operators, dissenting. Van Horn took the case to court with a demand that the plan be declared illegal.

The $100 per month pension plan was decided upon without consideration to actuarial figures. It is generally conceded that the present 10c per ton royalty payment is insufficient to meet the miners' pensions and also provide for other welfare needs of miners. In that event it is all but certain that Lewis will seek a substantial boost in royalties, eventually perhaps to as much as 50c a ton.

Judge Goldsborough pointed out, however, that the plan as now constituted is only temporary and that it can be changed as experience dictates. It was not his responsibility to determine whether the pension plan is good or bad, but simply to rule whether the plan violates existing contracts and laws. He ruled that it did not.

It is unlikely that there will be any retreat from the $100 per month pensions to retired miners, even if present royalties are far inadequate to meet the drain. Lewis has never shown any disposition to compromise on anything that he has already gained. When more funds are needed, as they inevitably will be, Lewis will simply demand that the royalties be raised—or else.

Settlement of the pension issue, however, virtually rules out a coal strike in July. Lewis said recently that the coal miners would be willing to remain on their jobs while a new contract was being negotiated, provided that the pension system was put into operation by July 1. Also it appears now that agreement is near on the terms for the new coal contract.

TURN IT DOWN! (Saginaw News)

A miniature horror has been created by scientists, designed to give householders more chills than any skeleton in the closet. Moths, gnawing away at choice woollens, sound like—"someone eating cornflakes!"

Prof. Paul Kellogg of Cornell university (not to be confused with the Battle Creek Kelloggs) has recorded the sound on a phonograph record so mothball salesmen can scare housewives right out of their moth-eaten coats.

Before this plunge into supersound amplification gets out of hand, someone better pass a law.
Imagine the summer crop of mosquitoes transformed into terrifying dive-bombers against the window screen—or house flies stamping their feet like a thundering herd on the kitchen ceiling. Or the ominous grating of boulders over the backyard stillness as night-crawlers twisted their way upward.

We give fair warning: Let any mothball salesman wired for sound step across our threshold and we'll wop him with a roll of absorbent cotton that'll ring in his ears like a clap of thunder!

Punctures are so afraid of garages they seldom go within miles of them.

Answer: Can't, the contraction for cannot, must always have the apostrophe. Without it, the word becomes cant, which means, "a singsong way of speaking; insincere statements; the jargon peculiar to a certain class or profession."

Los Angeles: Here is a printed form which begins: "We would like for you to . . ." It doesn't sound right to me.—D. E. C.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Philadelphia.—Eight years ago another Republican convention met here in Philadelphia. So much has happened in that brief space of time, and yet the Republican party has been remarkably sheltered from the winds of change.

The same men are in key positions of control. In many instances they have the same ideas they held in 1940. They are a little grayer, and a little heavier, but otherwise they are miraculously unchanged.

The candidates, with the addition of Harold Stassen, are the same. Governor Dewey, Senators Taft and Vandenberg were contending in 1940 as they are in 1948.

WILLKIE IS MISSED

Two men are missing this time. One is Wendell Willkie, the dynamic figure who charged that earlier convention with an intense kind of excitement that left the cautious managers powerless.

The other is Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose presence hung over the earlier gathering like a mocking cloud. Today the chances for victory seem so great that they could not possibly be thrown away. That is the something new that has been added.

As in 1940, two hostile wings of the party confront each other across the gulf of foreign policy. One, the nationalist wing, talks of keeping America strong and isolated, of keeping out foreigners and foreign influences. The other wing, which has grown greatly in eight years, is conscious of America's world position and world responsibility.

VANDENBERG HAD CHANCE

There was just a possibility that the issue between these two so widely separated factions might have been drawn in open battle here at the convention. It could have come if at the last minute Senator Vandenberg had been willing to lead the faction he speaks for in Congress.

The opportunity was put up to him on the eve of the convention. He was urged to issue a personal statement declaring for the principle of world cooperation and world reconstruction to bring peace and stability.

Headlined in the Sunday papers, such a statement would inevitably have made Vandenberg an active candidate for the nomination. He would have come to Philadelphia as the champion of the forces in the party and the convention that believe in the need for America's positive leadership.

After two soul-searching hours, in the midst of the turbulent last day of Congress, Vandenberg said no. History may have a great deal to say about the reasons for that decision—in terms of Vandenberg's temperament, his past, his approach to life. Instead of the statement read to Vandenberg on the telephone, it was agreed that Michigan's Governor Sigler should put out a release stating, as he had said several times before, that he knew Vandenberg was "available."

COMPROMISE LIKELY

The result, it seems to me, is likely to be compromise. The convention will try to square the circle—to reconcile the irreconcilable—just as Congress did in the closing hours. Vital legislation—the draft, money for ERP—had the narrowest squeak.

When it comes to candidates, the only possible compromise would seem to be Dewey. He has taken a stand for America's leadership and the acceptance of responsibility. Extreme nationalists such as Col. Robert R. McCormick have therefore put him under the same ban they impose on Vandenberg and Stassen.

But at the same time Dewey has not been in active combat with the Taberns and the Wherrys in his party. He has stood outside that battle, deliberately and cautiously. The outcome: Dewey accepted by delegates with reluctance in all quarters.

Perhaps this is the only way the American party system can work. The end result tends to be not what the largest number are actively for, but the man and the policy meeting with the least resistance.

The hazards in this kind of compromise are very great. If the convention follows this course, as it seems likely to do, those hazards may not at once be apparent. But the Taberns in the Senate and the House are very likely to make themselves heard again. They will have accepted the compromise as merely a kind of truce essential to the large victory of Republican over Democrat.

To have fought the issue out might have ended the party. The internationalists can point to definitive and positive gains over 1940. So the world does not stand still and all the blood, sweat, toil, tears and treasure spent in the intervening time may not have been entirely in vain.

fare, how should I write the plural of filemignon?—W. T.

Answer: To be strictly correct, follow the French form and pluralize both words (thus: filets mignons (in pronunciation, the "s" are silent). However, one usually sees this form in American bills of fare: file mignons. It's very bad French; but American English (also British English) is like that.

Indeed, English is about 40 per cent French. But very few of the words are given the French pronunciation; and French grammatical forms, which are quite unlike the English, are seldom if ever followed. This is the case, too, with words and phrases from the other foreign languages.

In short, once a word becomes a part of the so-called English language (either British or American), it almost always becomes English in pronunciation; it usually takes on an entirely new meaning; it frequently changes its spelling to conform with English orthography.

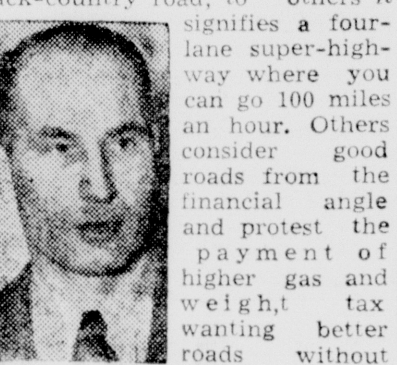

Sometime in the Dim, Distant Future

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

GOOD ROADS—There are many opinions on the question of good roads. To some people good roads mean a little gravel on their back-country road; to others it signifies a four-lane super-highway where you can go 100 miles an hour. They consider good roads from the financial angle and protest the payment of higher gas and weight tax wanting better roads without higher cost. And there are some folks who take good roads for granted and never even wonder how they happened to be good. The other evening we attended a dinner honoring J. T. "Jim" Sharpsteen, Delta county road commission superintendent-engineer for the past 14 years, who is to report July 1 to Genesee county to accept a similar position there. The road commission wanted to publicly honor Jim because they feel he has been a good engineer, a good administrator and a good public servant. So do a lot of other people in this county, and they must feel that way down in Genesee county too. Incidentally, Genesee county is one of the more populous Lower Michigan counties, includes the city of Flint, and has a lot of good roads.

TRY TO PLEASE—Sitting on one side of us was Supervisor Walter Manntie of Rock, on the other was Road Commissioner Henry Wylie of Escanaba, and across the table were several road commission employees. One of them was Edward "Shorty" Knecht of Gladstone, who recently got a slug of gravel dust in his eyes while working on the county's gravel crusher. He was red-eyed but recovering from the effects of the dust, which he said was like having your eyes doosed with lime—a combination of burn and scratch.

Supervisor Manntie said something about road officials trying to please the public. Most of the people are reasonable but some of them are never satisfied, no matter what is done, he observed. It reminded us of a comment by one public official: "My job depends not on how much I say 'yes', but how well I can say 'no'."

INITIATIVE—Commissioner Wylie in welcoming the guests also praised Sharpsteen, which was not unusual, since the dinner was in the engineer's honor. It was due to Sharpsteen's initiative, said Wylie, that a project is now before the state highway department to improve five miles of M-35 between Popkins and Trombly. It was Sharpsteen who approached the state highway commissioner and proposed that unused federal aid for secondary roads in Delta county be allocated to the state for the M-35 job. The commissioner said he would consider it. If the project goes through the total cost (state and federal) will be about $100,000 and a poor piece of highway will be vastly improved.

SLOW CHANGES—Other speakers touched on aspects of road development dating back to the days when people "laid up" their cars in winter because highways were not plowed. Probate Judge William Miller, Supervisor Harold Gustafson of Ensign, and Road Commission Chairman

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Morris Ackerman, outdoor editor of the Cleveland Press and publisher of Ackerman's Sportsmen Guide, will come to Escanaba to attend the Fishermen's Party and Fishing Rodeo to be held Sunday, June 26.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Legula are leaving Saturday for Madison, Wis., where Mr. Legula will attend the annual convention of the American Society of X-ray technicians.

Manistique—Former Governor Chase S. Osborn visited in Manistique Wednesday evening and Thursday enroute to Escanaba. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Stella Brunt Osborn.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Women folks, who are no longer in their teens, are reluctant to divulge their age when re-registering for voting, despite the frankness which seems to prevail among the weaker sex in this modern, jazz age, City Clerk Carl E. Anderson observes.

Escanaba—Henry A. Rose has announced that he is a candidate for re-election from Delta county, to the lower branch of the Michigan legislature.

Escanaba—Atty. and Mrs. A. H. Ryall announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Donald Purdy of Appleton, Wis., at a luncheon at their home.

Harry Greene of Garden touched on this story of highway progress.

Gustafson told of the rural mail carrier in the early days who had both runners and wheels for his snomobile. The sled runners were put on when he encountered unplowed roads, and taken off on plowed roads. "On his route he would have to stop and switch these back and forth several times in one day," Gustafson said.

NOT POPULAR—Judge Miller declared that progress is often accomplished despite the protests of many people. They do not oppose progress, but they do not like change.

Jim Sharpsteen, when it came his turn to express appreciation for the kind things that had been said of him, told of the start of snow removal. Orders came through—to begin plowing in the middle of January, after horse and sleigh traffic had built up hard ridges of snow in the centers of the roads. Not only was the task thus made difficult, but people disapproved because the plowing "spoiled the sleighing."

Now one of the principal responsibilities of county highway departments is to keep the roads clear of snow. If this were stopped, the protests could be heard from Ironwood to the Soo. Mail, milk and school bus routes, plus the regular wheel travel would be halted for three, or four months of each year.

LOOKING AHEAD—Harry Greene described Sharpsteen's resignation as a "jolt," but one from which the commission has recovered with a determination to look forward to new accomplishments.

"We have a good man in Bill Karas (appointed to succeed Sharpsteen) and we know he is going to fill the bill," said Greene.

Karas himself introduced Clarence Rose, his assistant, and the foremen and other supervisory personnel. With the help of the employees, he said, the Delta county road department will go forward. "We will do our best."

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

Philadelphia, (AP)—Convention sidelights:

The people's voice, filtered through 14,000 Republican larynxes, wore down to a whisper today after nearly seven hours of yelling for their seven "people's" choices.

The grand old party's grandest old party began with a stirring exchange of war whoops and boos between people for and against Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

It ended at 3:02 a. m., with a hoarse tired cheer for General Douglas MacArthur in a hall three-fourths empty.

By then the hall looked like it held a semi-nudest convention meeting in the wreckage of a hurricane. Confetti, torn streamers, discarded paper cups and sandwich scraps littered the floor. Three fugitive red balloons bobbed against the ceiling, trailing "win with Taft" pennants.

The men delegates long since had discarded their coats, their neckties and ripped open their collars. Many lady delegates had slipped their feet out of their shoes.

As the delegates filed out, the janitors awoke from catnaps and went to work.

Had the dawn come up like thunder today it would have sounded only like a whimper to the weary Republicans dreaming sweet victory dreams—for Tom Dewey, Or Taft, Or Warren, Or Stassen, Or Baldwin, Or Vandenberg, Or MacArthur.

Last night the voices named these seven. Today or tonight or tomorrow votes will pick the one survivor—the 1948 nominee.

One elderly marcher, after trudging half an hour in the Dewey parade around the hall, sat down next to his wife and said:

"All right, mother, I've knocked myself out."

Another delegate grabbed a friend and tried to get him to march around again:

"Come on, Ed!"

"I'm for him all right," said Ed, "but my feet aren't."

During the Taft demonstration one girl, filing past the platform, called to a comrade:

"Let's let the parade wait a minute. There's the newsreel cameras."

A wife said to her husband, also a Taft man: "Let's go home."

"Not for money!" yelled her spouse. "This is more exercise than I get on the farm."

As the parade for Gov. Earl Warren of California got underway patrolman Joe Pisano nailed two characters busy lifting balled from coats left on chairs by two delegates.

"We wanted to see up real close," one of the badge grabbers explained virtuously.

A girl called to a friend in the Warren line:

"Helen, why are you running around making all that noise?"

"I'm for a candidate," said Helen, who didn't say who if she knew.

Another Warren supporter moaned:

"I've been tuning up for this all night—and now I'm too hoarse to yell."

We shall have to face and solve the necessity of bringing wages into equilibrium with the rising cost of living and stabilizing them at that level.

—Paul Porter, former OPA Administrator.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Philadelphia.—The supporters of statesmanlike Senator Vandenberg should have known that hell hath no fury like a woman scorned. Their biggest mistake at the opening of the convention was to kick out Mrs. Dudley Hay after her many years of hard work as national committeewoman and as secretary of the G. O. P. national committee.

For thereby hangs a tale of political finagling which goes straight to the doors of some of the biggest Republican leaders in Michigan—a tale which does not help the presidential future of Arthur Vandenberg.

Some time ago, two big-shot Michigan gamblers, Danny Sullivan and Lincoln Fitzgerald, were indicted and immediately became fugitives from justice. Skipping to Nevada, they established the Nevada club in wide-open Reno and stayed there, thumbing their noses at Michigan law.

Efforts to have them extradited on the part of Ed Jacobs, McComb county prosecutor, failed.

Finally, Jacobs and Mrs. Dudley Hay, secretary of the Republican national committee, went to Washington, enlisted the support of Sen. Malone of Nevada, and he in turn appealed to Senator Vail Pittman of Nevada, who immediately moved to send Danny Sullivan and Lincoln Fitzgerald back to the arms of the law in Michigan.

From that moment on, says Mrs. Hay, her chances of re-election as Republican national committeewoman from Michigan were nil. County prosecutor bears her out. The big G. O. P. leaders of Michigan turned thumbs down.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

The Michigander who led the ouster of Mrs. Hay was Arthur Summerfield, Republican national committeeman, also one of the vigorous urgers of Vandenberg for president.

Summerfield has been president of the Detroit Automobile Dealers association, which, during the war, worked out a deal with the state whereby its books were not audited for payment of sales taxes. The dealers were supposed to pay the tax without any audit.

Now it develops that some of them did not pay sales taxes and they have been indicted. Simultaneously Michigan Attorney General Eugene Black charges that though the auto dealers did not pay taxes to the state, they did pay G. O. P. campaign contributions to Mr. Summerfield. They could afford one but not the other. In fact, Summerfield held one meeting of the auto dealers at which they agreed to an assessment of $1 for every car sold in 1947—this money to go into the G. O. P. campaign chest for Vandenberg.

Attorney General Black, himself a Republican, strongly hints that this donation to the Republican party was tied up with the deal whereby the auto dealers did not have their books audited for sales tax payments. Black has also stated that he planned to bring Summerfield himself before a grand jury just as soon as the Republican convention is over.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Another backstage development inside the Michigan group was a private conference between Senator Vandenberg and Frank McKay, big-shot Republican leader of Michigan and head of the gambling fraternity. McKay, who comes from Grand Rapids, has always been a political backer of Vandenberg, in addition to being a powerful wirepuller in the liquor and race-track fraternity.

McKay was a defendant in a famous trial involving graft and corruption in the sale of liquor, along with a bunch of minor goons and gangsters, but got off after two hung juries. He has also been indicted on other counts but never convicted.

William McKeligh, former mayor of Flint and a close associate of McKay's, was also indicted along with the two gamblers, Sullivan and Fitzgerald. He also has been a fugitive from justice.

McKay traveled on the same train to Philadelphia with the Vandenberg forces and has been snug-as-a-bug-in-a-rug with them since.

Politicians recognize that a senator sometimes has to compromise with political leaders back home to be re-elected, but many also feel that with President Truman's weakest spot the Pendegast machine in Kansas City, the Republicans should be careful that their candidate, while a great statesman internationally, does not have clay feet.

GOP-GO-ROUND

Jim Farley created a hubbub by bobbing up at Republican headquarters. . . "Aren't you a little early?" asked a reporter. Jim only grinned. . . Most conspicuous convention absentee is Walter Brown of Ohio, former postmaster general and G. O. P. "king-maker." Brown has been a familiar figure at every Republican conclave since 1920 when he put Warren Harding across in the famous "smoke-filled" hotel room. Defeated for this convention in a delegate race, Brown remarked: "Guess I'll get caught up on my fishing." . . While older delegates concentrate on hard bargaining in convention lobbies, younger ones swap war experiences and display snapshots of new babies. . . Newsmen are betting that Chicago Tribune Publisher Bert McCormick picked up the check for that swank dinner Gov. Dwight Green threw for 750 delegates and Illinois political leaders. . . Philadelphia police did a good preconvention job of rounding up pickpockets and loiterers for the protection of delegates. All suspicious characters with past records were brigged for 90 days. . . When bustling, ubiquitous Senator Wayland "Curly" Brooks of Illinois was introduced to a G. O. P. precinct committeeman, he confided: "It's tougher holding a job like yours than getting elected to the Senate. I was a precinct committeeman for eight years."

Employers Asked To Grant Leave For Guard Camp

Commendation awards are being prepared this week by the Adjutant General's office for hundreds of Michigan employers who are granting military leave to enable National Guardsmen and other reservists to participate in field training.

The Michigan National Guard and Michigan Department, Reserve Officers Association, in cooperation with local chambers of commerce, have completed a statewide campaign to inform employers of military training leave required for members of the civilian reserve components. The national defense act requires that every Guardsman must attend 15 days of field training.

More than 6,000 Michigan Guardsmen are expected to attend field training in August at Camp Grayling. Air units will train August 1 to 15 and army units August 7 to 21. All personnel must obtain military leave from their civilian occupations to attend field training.

Commendation certificates are being awarded to all employers granting military leave in addition to regular vacations. Many military leave plans submitted also provide for supplemental pay to insure that men may participate in field training without sacrifice of income. Military leave plans have been adopted by major employers with more than 10,000 employees, as well as hundreds of smaller concerns with less than 100 employees.

Bishop Baraga Observance
At Marquette On June 27

Arrangements for the first annual Bishop Baraga Day celebration which will be held in Marquette Sunday, June 27, are complete, it was announced today by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John T. Holland, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, who is general chairman of arrangements. The celebration will be attended by a large delegation from Escanaba including members of the Catholic clergy and Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus who will form an honorary escort to the Bishops in the parade.

Bishop Thomas L. Noa, seventh successor to Bishop Baraga, will offer a pontifical mass at 11 o'clock in the Palestra arena where arrangements have been made to seat 4,000 people. Officers of the mass include the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph L. Zryd, vicar general of the diocese, assistant priest; Rev. Cyril Shirrel, O. F. M., executive secretary of the Bishop Baraga association, Lemont, Ill., and Rev. Mathias J. Butala, Joliet, Ill., assistant deacons; Rev. Francis M. Scheringer, L'Anse, president of the Bishop Baraga association, deacon; and Rev. Raymond Garin, Dollar Bay, recording secretary of the association, sub-deacon. Rev. Joseph J. Dunleavy and Rev. Emil J. Beyser, Marquette will be masters of ceremonies.

The sermon will be delivered by the Most Rev. Francis J. Haas, D. D., Bishop of Grand Rapids.

A parade under the direction of John Borgo, marshal of the day, will precede the mass. The afternoon program will be featured by the annual meeting of the Bishop Baraga association in Cathedral hall.

Baraga The Pioneer
The contribution made by Bishop Baraga to the development of the Peninsula is recorded in its history. "In 1843 Father Frederic Baraga was appointed Indian missionary to the tribes of the Lake Superior country. His field of labor included the entire Upper Peninsula and the adjacent Wisconsin territories and the Ontario, Canada, area. The appointment was made by the Bishop of Detroit. When he crossed the Straits he found the whole of Northern Michigan a wilderness. There were four primitive trading posts in existence, each consisting of a few cabins with stockade fortifications. These were at the Sault, St. Ignace, Mackinac Island and L'Anse.

The lack of roads made travel by canoe in summer and snowshoes in winter imperative. With great regularity Fr. Baraga made his missionary journey from the Sault to present Superior, from there to L'Anse, to Copper Harbor to Marquette, to Mackinac Island. On the trips from L'Anse to Copper Harbor and from the Sault to Mackinac Island, about 60 miles, he would spend four nights in the open air. There was no habitation along the entire route.

Mission At Manistique
He established his first mission in the U. P. at Manistique—St. Mary's. Moving on to L'Anse he found there the largest Chippewa settlement and made it the center of his labors throughout the district. Before coming to the U. P. he had labored at Arbre Croche (Harbor Springs) and left there over 1000 converts.

During the Copper Rush of the 1840's on Keweenaw Point he was prepared to meet the obligations of his mission to the white settlers and regularly visited the camps, establishing 30 missions practically unaided.

At the time of his death on January 19, 1868, at the age of 71, he left fifteen parishes with resident pastors and fifteen missions in Upper Michigan."

Church Events

Bark River Service
Services will be held at the Bark River Mission Covenant church Friday evening, June 25, at 8 o'clock. Rev. John P. Anderson is in charge.

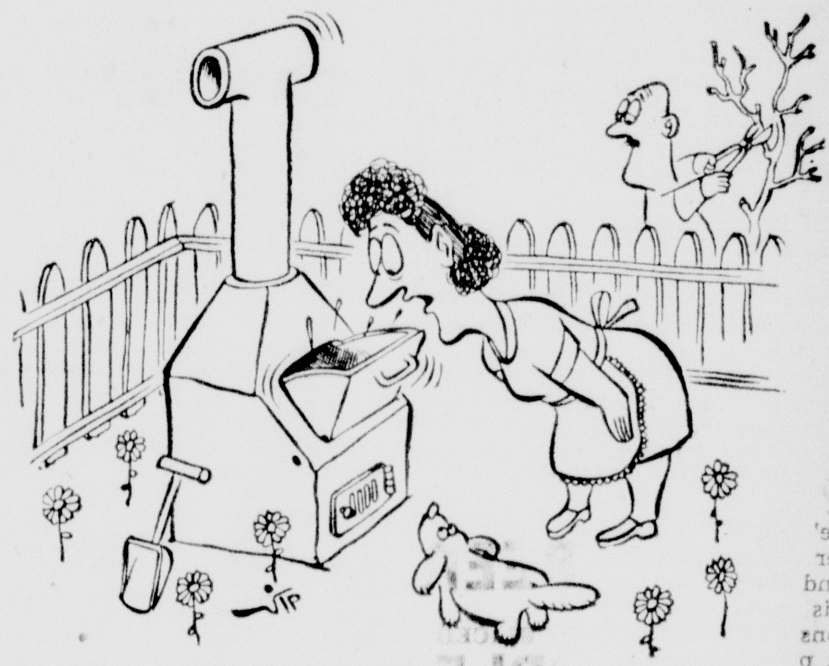

Confirmation Class
The Ev. Covenant confirmation class is meeting for instruction at the church at 4 p. m., Friday.

Jeanette Anderson Teaching in Mexico

Miss Jeanette Anderson, niece of Miss Esther Anderson, 1114 First avenue south, has accepted a position teaching Spanish in the Mexican school at Mexico City, and is assuming her duties there the last of the month. Miss Anderson received her degree, with distinction, from the University of Minnesota, June 12, and left for Mexico from Minneapolis.

engaging in night operations.

Reports from the French sector said water service was being disturbed there.

The Russians and German Communists threatened economic reprisals against any of the 3,400,000 Berliners who accept the western Allies' new currency. The Russians have decreed the currency illegal and ordered use of their own new money for the entire city.

The Soviet-controlled radio reminded that "frozen bank balances of Berliners are locked up in banks of the Soviet sector of the city. Anyone who is identified as having taken the western currency will never be able to collect on those frozen accounts when they are released."

The radio urged residents of western Berlin to go into the Soviet sector for the new Russian stamped currency being issued today, and to disregard the western conversion tomorrow.

Joe Louis Said He Was Through in '42

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, June 24 (AP)—Joe Louis continues to say that his title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott (now scheduled tonight) will be his last. But in the course of looking through the records to find the last time a Louis fight was rained out, we came across a couple of interesting quotes from the heavyweight champion. Back in 1942 Louis, then in the army, said he was "through fighting" because he'd be in his thirties when he got out of uniform and "that's too old."

A couple of years later he said he'd defend his title just once after the war—against Billy Conn—and then retire. Joe changed his mind about those two decisions and he may change again.

A personal opinion is that, if Joe beats Walcott, he'll give Gus Lesnevich a whack at the title in the fall and then call it quits.

Williams, Musial Top All-Star Poll

Chicago, June 24 (AP)—Ted Williams, the American league's top hitter, retained his position today as the highest individual vote-getter in the All Star baseball poll to determine the starting lineup for the 15th annual All Star game in St. Louis July 13.

Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugger who had regained the No. 1 to Cleveland's Lou Boudreau, has 114,782 of the 368,798 ballots tabulated to date. The Indians' manager-shortstop is runnerup with 112,254 votes. Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees is in third spot with 110,958.

The National league's leading vote-getter still is Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals with 108,064. He is followed by a teammate right fielder Eros Slaughter who has 106,154 votes.

Pros Pursue $3,000 First-Place Check At Inverness Meet

Toledo, O., June 24 (AP)—A purse of $10,560 hung at the end of 126 holes of play today as 16 of the nation's top-flight professionals launched the 11th Inverness best-ball Round-Robin Invitational meet.

The winners get $3,000 of the melon, and practically everyone expected goldfom's golden boys, Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, to pick up that check after Sunday's final round.

The two transplanted Texans have won three of the last four Inverness classics.

Everyone in the tourney gets a payday, the last of the eight pairs drawing down $600 for the four days of match play. Today's opening round sent Hogan and Demaret against Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Big Jim Ferrier, who last year won the PGA title.

Other opening round pairings: Bobby Locke, South African champion and Ed Furgol vs. Chuck Harbert and Vic Ghezzi; Lloyd Mangrum and Dick Metz vs. Clayton Haefer and Herman Keiser; and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and Bob Hamilton vs. Johnny Palmer and "Skip" Alexander.

Under the event's unique scoring system, each pair meets each other twosome in full 18-hole rounds. The winner gets a "plus" equal to the number of holes it finishes ahead, and the loser gets a corresponding "minus." Scores are carried over from match to match, and at the end the pair with the greatest "plus" grabs the $3,000.

Hearing Postponed On Michigan Bell Rate Raise Request

Lansing, June 24 (AP)—Hearings on the application of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for a $10,400,000 rate increase were indefinitely postponed yesterday.

The adjournment came as the company was pressing the Michigan Public Service Commission for an early decision and the commission staff and the city of Detroit was urging more study of the situation.

John W. Kushing, chief engineer for the commission, advanced the theory at yesterday's hearing that rates should be set on the cost of delivering service. The rates are now set on the estimated value of the service to the customer.

He added that to set rates on costs, studies of the costs of 24 exchanges should be made. The studies would take three months, he said.

Whiteman Fined $5 As Careless Driver

Mays Landing, N. J., June 24 (AP)—Bandleader Paul Whiteman was fined $5 and costs on a careless driving charge last night after his automobile crashed into a pole on Black Horse Pike 10 miles south of Williamstown, N. J.

Whiteman, currently appearing at a Philadelphia nightclub, was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Camden county General Hospital at Lakeland and then given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Frank Lombardi of Mays Landing.

The bandleader was enroute to Philadelphia from Atlantic City, and was alone in his automobile. State police who investigated the accident said that Whiteman's car suddenly swerved out of control and crashed into a wooden pole.

Bid For Addition To NMCE Power Plant Is $88,000

Lansing, June 24 (AP)—Miller-Davis Co. of Kalamazoo submitted a bid of $88,000 on building an addition to the power plant at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, yesterday.

State Building Division officials said that though it was the only bid offered, it was below estimates and would be recommended for acceptance.

The addition was made necessary by additional demands on the heating system by the building of a new union and dormitory building.

DEAN OF BAR DIES

Potosky, Mich., June 24 (AP)—Judge Charles J. Pailthorpe, former state legislator and dean of the Michigan bar, died at his home here today. He celebrated his 100th birthday last Christmas. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

Favorite Sons Are Key Links To Stop Dewey

over," but asked not to be quoted by name.

Saltonstall announced he was withdrawing because he believed it "in the best interest of the Republican party in Massachusetts." He said he was for Dewey and had asked the Massachusetts delegates to "exercise their own best judgment."

There has been a terrific fight within the Bay State's 35-vote delegation. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, jr., and others have been holding out for Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg.

Walter S. Hallanan, West Virginia National committeeman, came out for Dewey. He said the New Yorker at the head of the ticket would make it certain the Republicans will carry border states in the fall elections.

Even after Hallanan's move—which was not unexpected—the anti-Dewey forces were talking bravely, but Saltonstall's move was a heavy blow.

Stassen for Vandenberg

Before the Massachusetts development, Harold E. Stassen professed belief Dewey actually was losing ground. He said he understood three Kentucky delegates, two from Washington and one from Utah had left the Dewey camp.

About the time Saltonstall was holding his news conference, Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, got out a statement naming Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana as Dewey's choice for vice-president. Halleck came out for Dewey yesterday.

McCormick said "Dewey will not be nominated because the delegates realize he will be hard to elect" and declared: "Everyone knows that the Indiana delegation was bought by the vice presidential nomination for Halleck after Gov. Green turned down the offer for the Illinois delegation."

Michigan May Shift

Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan told reporters he would poll his delegates to find out where they wanted to go if the nomination appeared lost to Vandenberg.

He said: "By the time we get down to the M's on the second roll call we ought to have a pretty good idea what's happening and I want to know what the delegates have in mind."

Dewey lieutenants claim there are at least 33 second choice votes for Dewey in the Michigan delegation.

Stassen had a pre-session conference with Lodge. There are reports that Stassen, if he can't get the big prize himself, would prefer to see it go to Vandenberg.

Sensor Robert A. Taft of Ohio conferred with members of the Utah and Kentucky delegations and told reporters he also had been carrying on a lot of "telephone conferences."

Dewey's camp suffered one disappointment when the Kansas delegation caucused and voted to cast 12 of its 19 votes for Dewey on the first ballot with the seven others scattered among Taft, Vandenberg, Stassen and speaker Martin. Dewey men had claimed 14 to 16 Kansas votes.

Dewey's backers obviously were out to steam-roller the opposition if they could.

As the time neared for the first call of the states at 1 p. m. (EST), the New Yorker's forces were ready to pour every available scrap of voting fuel into the boiler in the first two tries for the coveted prize.

Claims Disputed

With that steam up, the Dewey strategists counted on coasting to victory on the third roll call if they don't pull the trick earlier.

Against this, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and a scattering of favorite sons fought a defensive, delaying action.

Warren Bloc Wooded

This would require cooperation—and it seemed likely to be forthcoming—from such favorite sons as Gov. Earl Warren of California and Senators Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts.

Warren's bloc of 53 California votes was one of the key links in the coalition, and Dewey's forces were making strenuous but thus far futile efforts to woo the westerner away.

The coalition—agreed upon in talks between Taft, Stassen, Gov. James Duff of Pennsylvania, Gov. Kim Sigler of Michigan and National Committeeman Harold Mitchell of Connecticut—was to force a convention recess before the third ballot.

This would give time for the opposition to look over its strength and possibly agree on a single candidate to back.

The plan had the approval of Duff and of Sigler, who placed the name of Senator Arthur Vandenberg before the weary delegates in the early hours of this morning.

Vandenberg, self-styled "problem child" of his supporters because he says he doesn't want the nomination, remained one of the most likely compromise candidates of the Dewey dissenters.

Wisconsin Senator Finds St. Lawrence Waterway Big Job

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) said today he will continue to press the St. Lawrence Seaway issue—while admitting he has no "illusions" as to the task involved.

He was named by Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to head a subcommittee to continue a study of the project.

Serving with Wiley will be Senators Smith (R-N.Y.), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Thomas (D-Utah), and Barkley (D-Ky.).

The recently adjourned Congress turned down by a lop-sided vote legislation authorizing construction of the half-billion dollar waterway to provide power and bring ocean-going vessels into the Great Lakes.

Wolverine Youths March On Lansing

East Lansing, June 24 (AP)—The nearly 1,000 youthful citizens of Wolverine Boys' State at Michigan State college will stage their annual march on the state capitol today.

The young politicians, who have set up their own model government on the MSC campus, will tour capitol buildings and take over their corresponding offices in Michigan's state government.

The Wolverine boy governor will get a chance to sit in Governor Sigler's seat of authority. Other young public officials will learn the duties of their elected posts.

Following the visit to the capitol, the Boys' State Citizens will be allowed their first liberty on the week-long assemblage. The Boys' State Citizens will start for home Friday.

Munising News

Reverend Oswald Succeeds Soderberg

Munising—The Rev. Carl E. Oswald, of New Haven, Mich., will become pastor of the First Methodist church here next month. He will succeed the Rev. Einar H. Soderberg, who has been transferred to a Lower Michigan pastorate by the Detroit conference.

The Rev. Oswald, who is married and has three children, will occupy his new pulpit July 4 for the first time.

The Rev. Soderberg has been here two years.

Fourth of July Plans Are Made

Munising—Tentative plans for Munising's Fourth of July celebration, which will be held Monday, July 5, were made Tuesday night at a general committee meeting. As now set up, the program will include a parade, street races, the distribution of free trade tickets to children, a kiddie's pet parade, baseball game, waterfight, band music, Coast Guard drill, boat races and fireworks.

The celebration will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Roderick Prato post of the American Legion.

Another meeting of the general committee will be held at 7:30 Tuesday night at the Legion club.

Dewey leaders claimed they will reach 500 votes—only 48 short of the nomination—by the second ballot. And with that start, they said, nothing can stop him.

These claims were quickly and vigorously disputed from the other camps.

"That's rubbish," said Ted Gamble, convention manager for Stassen, in a typical opposition comment delivered from the crowded, sweaty floor of the convention—now entering its climatic fourth day.

Taft said Dewey won't hit 400 on the first count. "The Dewey blitz has been stopped," the Ohio senator insisted.

But a "we've-got-the-votes" quote came from J. Russell Sprague, New York National committeeman and a top Dewey leader, who added: "They can't stop us."

The opposition's strategy was for each candidate to hold his lines as firmly as possible for two ballots.

Augsburg Quartet Pleases Audience

Beautifully blended voices were heard in an excellent selection of choral music in the concert given last evening at Immanuel Lutheran church by the Augsburg Ambassadors, a quartet composed of Merton Strommen, Kenneth Sorenson, Paul Paulson and Bernhard Brehme, who have sung here previously with the Augsburg college choir.

Among the numbers most enjoyed by the audience were "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" "At the Foot of the Cross I Am Resting," the familiar and well loved "Old Rugged Cross," "Just As I Am," "My God and I" and "Keep In the Middle of the Road."

The quartet was heard over WDBC this morning and sang at the meeting of Immanuel Aid this afternoon.

The group's next concert will be in Marinette.

Eva The Elephant In Need of Lawyer At GOP Convention

Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—Little Eva, the elephant who came to Philadelphia to lend weighty support to the campaign of Sen. Robert A. Taft for the republican presidential nomination, needs a lawyer.

A former employee of Dailey Brothers circus got a court attachment yesterday against the elephant to support a year-old damage claim. Deputy sheriffs have started an elephant hunt.

The suit was filed on behalf of Joseph Wallace, who claims he underwent amputation of an arm as the result of an injury at Dailey Brothers circus in Bellefonte, Pa., last year. He claimed he couldn't locate previously assets of the circus in Pennsylvania against which a damage suit could be filed.

Council for Wallace posted $10,000 bond to obtain the attachment. An equal bond will be necessary to obtain release of the elephant when the war is served.

Annual Gathering

Good fellowship, along with much for the good of the order and a very satisfactory attendance made the annual meeting of the Cloverland District of Royal Neighbors, at Manistique Tuesday, a memorable occasion.

Despite a number of disappointments—among them the inability of Supreme Manager Jessie L. Mitchell to be present because of illness and a motor accident which caused the absence of several—St. Marie delegates, the meeting was well in hand and time of both afternoon and evening sessions were well taken up.

Among the interesting features of the afternoon session was a school of instruction conducted by Daisy Heath, of Bay City, state supervisor.

The convention proper was held at the Odd Fellows hall, and the banquet in the evening at the parlors of the First Methodist church. After the banquet, the following program was held: Manistique Juveniles, a drill.

Sault Ste. Marie Camp, fancy drill.

Drill by Manistique Juveniles, Fancy Drill, Sault Ste. Marie Camp.

Talk, by Daisy Heath, Comic Skit, Bimbley Camp, Fancy Drill, Manistique Juniors.

Songs, Shirley Anderson, accompanied by Margaret Mueller, Piano Solo, Marie Kasbohm.

Song "End of a Perfect Day," assembly.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Eunabelle Wendland, past president; Irene Noble, of Brimley, president; Jessie Wilson, Sault Ste. Marie, vice president; Ellen Payment, Sault Ste. Marie, chancellor; Edna Ziegler, of Brimley, secretary-treasurer.

Brimley was chosen as next year's place of meeting.

The Holbein estate matter was settled out of court and the claim of the glass company was allowed.

New Schuster Food Mart
Grand Opening Friday

Schuster's Super Food Mart is generally regarded as one of the older business establishments in Manistique and to the passerby its appearance on Deer street is much the same as it has been for several years, but when it opens for business Friday morning, those who enter its doors are in for a great surprise for that popular and progressive establishment, will be, to all intents and purposes, a new place of business.

While it is true that the same brands of merchandise and the same high quality of service that has been featured of old will continue to be carried, everything will be on an enlarged scale, self-service will be facilitated and there will be three checkout lanes to add convenience of the public.

Store Greatly Enlarged
The enlargement means that there will be 2700 square feet of floor space in the store proper which means that the sales room has been increased by 1,100 square feet. Every fixture in the place, including scales, cash registers and shelves, are entirely new. Included among the new fixtures are a triple decked refrigerated dairy case, 20 foot meat counter, frosted foods displays, three-island self service shelving, all of which are classified under the heading of Hussianmann equipment.

The ceiling and walls are of Nu-Wood with the meat and dairy department backed by tile. Cold cathode lights provide illumination. The store layout was engineered and equipment installed by the Grocers' Equipment Service of Green Bay, Wis.

Large Warehouse
Equally important in the general setup is the roomy and well arranged warehouse at the rear. This room is not only ample in floor space but is high of ceiling and well lighted. Office space is also set off in this new addition.

Coming here to assist with Friday's grand opening will be Lee Joannes, president of the equipment service, who will come here by plane. He will be here to assist Mac Backer of the Equipment Company and John Stephenson of the Joannes Grocery company who have been in personal charge of the remodeling.

Mr. Joannes, by the way, is one of the founders of the famous Green Bay Packer Football Association, and for 17 years was president of that organization. He is still one of its directors.

Started In 1905
Schuster's Super Food Mart had its beginning in 1905 when the late John N. Schuster bought out the business of Stellwagen & Smith, conducting the business then strictly as a meat market. As time went on, the grocery line was added. For several years prior to Mr. Schuster's death in 1930, his son Omer assumed management of the business and in 1933 he became its owner.

Active in its direction, Mr. Schuster has found it necessary to place the several departments of the store under managers in particular lines. They are: Ed Toyra, meat department; Don McPhail, produce; Miss Evelyn Schuster, groceries.

Changes in the building were made by the following: Ragnar Carlson and Leonard Larson, carpenter work; Vic Billings, painting; Don Hoholik, plumbing; Robert Harbin, lighting; Albert Schurbring.

Information Center Asks Cooperation Of Resort Owners

Lars Olson, secretary of the chamber of commerce here, is making an appeal to resort owners of the area asking them to keep the information office informed as to vacancies accommodations and other incidental data.

Tourists are arriving in increasing numbers, Olson states, and already this season there have been times when he and his assistant have had to do much telephoning in order to accommodate tourists with adequate information.

Resort owners should call the information office regularly and thereby help get the summer visitors on their way with a minimum of delay. Number One is the Information Bureau's phone number.

Police Called To Investigate Two Motor Accidents

Two motor mishaps within a few hours of each other kept city police busy running down clues as to their cause.

Late Tuesday afternoon a car, driven by Jacob Kendall, who lives on the River Road, crashed into a truck parked on River street not far from the Hewitt service station. The car hit the rear of the truck at its left rear.

The windshield and top of the car were smashed and Kendall was cut about the head and face. He was taken unconscious to the Shaw hospital and released later in the evening.

About three o'clock Wednesday morning a car driven by Phil Fizeite, 342 Chippewa avenue, crashed into the garage door of the Hewitt Grocery company on Maple street. There was considerable damage to the car and to the garage. Fizeite was given a summons by city police and when appearing before Judge W. G. Stephens in justice court Wednesday noon, pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving. He was fined $25 and $5 costs and also ordered to make restitution for damage done to the grocery company's garage doors.

Pleads Guilty to Reckless Driving

Henry Jackson, recently arrested by state police from the Newberry post on a charge of reckless driving appeared before Judge W. G. Stephens Wednesday morning and pleaded guilty. He was fined $25 and costs. He had been arrested while driving on Highway M-28.

Sportsmen's Club
Held Meeting
Tuesday Evening

A large attendance favored the regular meeting of the Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's Club, held at the Gun Club, Tuesday evening.

Chief among matters discussed was the need of a fish biologist in the area and matters pro and con relative to the closing of Indian Lake to winter spearing. The need for more adequate maintenance of water levels in Indian lake was also discussed.

It was decided that with the assistance of volunteer helpers, the gun club grounds would be made more presentable. A bulldozer will also be put to work to level up the grounds and to make the approach to the place more passable.

Movies made available through the conservation department added interest to the meeting.

The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, July 6.

55,000 To See Title Scrap In New York

Joe Louis
Twenty-first Century Sporting Club officials anticipate a gate of between $800,000 and $900,000 with radio and television receipts.

WEATHER (?)

New York, June 24 (AP)—The sun broke feebly through the overcast in midmorning today but the weather bureau stood pat on its forecast of scattered showers for tonight, when Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott are scheduled to meet in their once-postponed heavyweight title fight.

Given a break in the weather, a bulky fight-wearer Joe Louis will defend his heavyweight championship against Jersey Joe Walcott to night in what well might mark the end of a boxing era.

It's this intriguing prospect—the last ring appearance of a great champion or an upset victory by the old campaigner from South Jersey—that is expected to lure a crowd of 55,000 into Yankee Stadium.

The 15-round title bout is scheduled to start at 9 p. m., EST, making it a million dollar affair if skies clear.

The weather bureau, in a rut, promised more showers and thunderstorms today and tomorrow. If washed out a second time, the bout will be staged Friday, and so on.

Even the odds seemed to react to the uncertainty of conditions and fluctuated between 5 to 11 and 5 to 13, favoring the champion, in brisk overnight betting activity.

How the two principals, 34-year-old veterans tuned to a sharp fighting edge, and the gate will be affected by the delay remains to be seen.

STAR AT FERRIS—Harold Kleiman, Bark River, has been a star with the Ferris Institute Bulldogs at Big Rapids this season, helping win eight games while losing only two. Kleiman plays third base and was one of the powerful defensive players of the season. He hit .257.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY HM WARD

Escanaba's junior baseball program is growing by leaps and bounds. . . . Facetiously speaking, Jerome Deloria is supplying the leaps and Bob Dufour the bounds. . . . It is growing so rapidly that George Grenholm, city recreation director, has corralled his forces and put two more men on the payroll, Ray Berndt, Escanaba high school star, to handle Royce Park junior baseball, and Warren Johnston to take care of Webster park. . . . And to top it off, Dufour is organizing an Escanaba junior baseball school. . . . The registration blank will be published on this page tomorrow.

Such interest and enthusiasm promises much for the future of baseball in Escanaba. . . . The national pastime has staged a tremendous comeback since the war. . . . It has already overtaken much of the ground lost to softball during the war. . . . Softball has slipped in some U. P. communities, but it still remains very popular here, however. . . . And there is every indication that it will continue to do so. . . . The crowds at Memorial Field at night verify this.

Odds and Ends: Photo-finish prints of every race will be available one minute after each race at the NAAU track and field meet at Marquette university in Milwaukee July 2 and 3. . . . Although the Michigan Open and U. P. Golf Association tournament are scheduled for the same weekend, by-laws of the latter association designate the second weekend of August as the date of the U. P. and there is little likelihood it can be scheduled for the fourth weekend of August to avoid the conflict. . . . This is unfortunate indeed because it prevents many capable U. P. golfers from attempting to make a showing in state competition. . . . It is our contention that the conflict should be avoided in the future if at all possible.

Edward A. Maki, Michigan Tech hockey coach and phy ed instructor, has resigned. . . . His successor has not been named, and no reason for Maki's resignation has been given. . . . Maki played goalie on the Tech hockey team and in his senior year was selected to play with the U. S. Olympic squad in international hockey competition in Switzerland. . . . He was instrumental in helping Vic Hevlier of Michigan organize the National College Hockey association.

Phils' Investment In Roberts Is Paying Off

By Ralph Roden
Associated Press Sports Writer
Robin Roberts, 21-year-old righthander, is proving the Philadelphia Phillies made a smart move when they gave him $25,000 to sign with their organization.

The lanky speed ball pitcher gained his first major league victory last night, stopping the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, at Philadelphia. Roberts held the Reds to seven hits—two of them homers by Hank Sauer and Danny Litwhiler. He fanned nine and walked only three.

The Springfield, Ill., youth, who was brought up from Wilmington of the Interstate league on June 17, made his first big league start against the Pittsburgh Pirates on June 18 and dropped a 2-0 decision to the veteran Elmer Riddle.

In addition to having a fine fast ball, he possesses good control and an overhand as well as a puzzling side arm hook.

The Phils scored the winning run in the fourth on a walk to Ashburn, his steal of second, and Harry Walker's single.

The game was the only one played in the National league. A scheduled doubleheader between Chicago and New York and single games between Pittsburgh and Brooklyn and St. Louis and Boston were postponed because of rain.

In the American league, the second place New York Yankees beat the league-leading Indians, 5-1, in 11-innings in a night game at Cleveland. The setback cut the Indians' lead to two-and-one half games.

Tommy Henrich broke up the game with a grand-slam homer off Don Black, who went the route for the Tribe. Ken Keltner hit his 17th homer in the seventh inning to account for the lone Cleveland run.

The third place Philadelphia Athletics, behind the six-hit pitching of Dick Fowler, swamped the Browns, 12-1, in another night tilt at St. Louis. Herman Franks led the A's 14-hit attack, driving in five runs on a homer, triple and double.

A scheduled day game between the Boston Red Sox and the White Sox in Chicago was postponed because of rain.

Trout Hurls Best Game Of Season; Loses, 2-1

Detroit, June 24 (AP)—The slump-ridden Detroit Tigers sent Virgil Trucks and his fast ball into action today to stem a land-sliding losing streak of five games.

The speedballer's opponent is scheduled to be Early Wynn, a husky righthander who has won six and lost seven for the Senators. Trucks has a 4-4 record.

But unless the Detroiters can do better by their Virgil than they did for Dizzy Trout yesterday, there won't be much Trucks can do about it.

Pitching his best game of the season, Trout gave up only four hits and two bases on balls—and lost, 2-1.

While doing this he had the frustrating experience of seeing his mates reach base 15 times without scoring. By contrast, only four Senators were left stranded.

The Tigers, helped by the wildness of Washington hurlers, loaded the bases four times during the course of the humid afternoon.

But the only time it did them any good was in the fourth inning, when Walter Masterson, Senator starting pitcher, walked three men in a row to force in Pat Mullin with the Tigers' sole run.

In the ninth the Tigers raised the hopes of the meager crowd of 6,271—the season's smallest—by loading the bases with one out. Then, however, a game-saving catch of Pinch-hitter Jimmy Outlaw's liner by Outfielder E. Stewart snuffed out the rally, and the game.

Both of the Senators' runs were unearned. In the fifth Dick Wakefield bungled an easy fly from the bat of Eddie Yost to allow relief pitcher Earl Harrist to score from first.

One inning later, following Gil

Coan's single, Paul Campbell made a bad throw on a double play ball with one out to set the stage for the winning run.

In all, the Tigers sandwiched six hits between nine bases on balls from four Washington hurlers. The team's three 300 hitters—George Kell, Wakefield and Hoot Evers—got two singles apiece.

Rock Will Stage Feature Twin Bill For John Petonen

Rock, June 24—As a benefit for Johnny Petonen, Rock catcher who broke his leg recently, a feature doubleheader baseball program will be presented here next Sunday afternoon.

The Rock juniors will tangle with the Escanaba Legion Cubs in a Tri County Junior Baseball league game at 12:30, and the Rock nine will meet Rapid River in a Bay de Noc league tilt at 2:30.

Petonen suffered a fractured leg when he slid into third base in the Garden game a week ago Sunday.

Baseball Stars Of Yesterday

Batting—Tommy Henrich, Yankees—hit a grand slam home run in the 11th inning at Cleveland to give New York a 5-1 victory over the Indians.

Pitching—Robin Roberts, Philadelphia—won his first major league victory in his second start, 3-2, over Cincinnati, striking out nine and allowing seven hits.

Junior Baseball
Trading place defeated The Fair Store, 3-2 its sixth junior baseball victory of the season. Peevee Marenger hit his fourth homer of the season to set the pace, and Bud Provo was the winning hurler.

JUNE CLEARANCE

TELEVISION IS NEW PROBLEM

Politicoes Are Finding Video Tough

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Philadelphia—A visiting lady reporter, Miss Rebecca West of England, just remarked that this convention seems to have been run for the express benefit of the press, the radio, movies and television, with the real point of the fandango being lost in the general hubbub. Miss West deplores this in well-bred tones, and so do I.

Ruark

If you remember, away back in 1924, the introduction of radio to the conventions discomfited the speechmakers terribly, and it wasn't until years after that the orators had the ogle even semi-tamed. This television gimmick is going to be even harder to lick.

It is not entirely unlikely that a principal qualification for a successful politico will be the man's ability to perform for video—more important, maybe, than his statesmanship, his political craft, his control of his constituents. Television, from the brief glimpses I've had of its product here, can make such a visual flop of a speaker that the merit of his words is lost. Nor does the capering of a thousand photographers, technicians and dial twiddlers lend any marked emphasis to the message of an orator.

Madame Luce Looked Bad

I saw Madame Clare Boothe Luce last night, before she made her speech, and the lady was looking fine, if not downright beautiful. But on the television screen she came out awful—her face, hair and dress all one washed-out color, and her gestures seemed ill-matched and awkward. Her voice, as it ebbed and flowed with the odd current they have here, scratched and screeched. It was embarrassing to watch, and you lost a lot of continuity out of a speech that had considerable writin' in it.

Television is even rough on the old-time professional radio gabbers—the boys who have India-rubber faces, and who warp them all out of shape for emphasis. They can't grimace and ripple their cheek muscles anymore, because it looks pretty horrible. So they control their athletic kissers at the expense of their voices, which crowd past their teeth in a mutter.

Must Be Clean-Shaven

The slightest bit of fatigue multiplies itself a hundred times, and a guy with just a mild hangover appears to be on the verge of death. Any fellow with a peach-fuzz set of whiskers looks like a Sicilian bandit. A guy with a real beard seems to be peering out of a bush.

Any dame who marches before a television battery without first plastering herself with pancake makeup comes out looking like the witch of Endor. So innocent a prop as a pair of fluttering white gloves can steal all the sock from the lady's lines. And speaking of swiping the play from the speaker—you should have seen Senator Kenneth Wherry.

Wherry was going great, waving his arms and orating on eight cylinders, pointing with pride, view with alarm, and generally busting a gusset. During all the fireworks a stout lady sat stolidly behind him, placidly reading a paper. It took minutes to tune her out, but while she was in there, you quit watching Wherry, and his words disappeared in puffs of smoke.

I presume television is here to stay, and if so, the politicking boys and girls are going to be forced to buckle down and whip it. Or else, they'll be hearing something like this: "Joe's a good party man and fine presidential timber, but he stinks out the joint on a video appearance. Let's nominate Pete. He ain't too smart, but he shows up on the screen like Tyrone Power."

Large Crowd Hears Band Concert Here

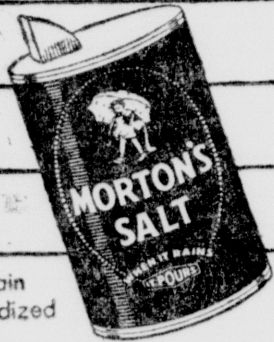

An audience estimated at 2,000 persons listened to the Escanaba municipal band concert Wednesday evening in Ludington Park.

It was the second in a series of three outdoor concerts sponsored jointly by Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Musicians Protective Union, financed by the Recording and Transcription Fund of the union.

The concert included a number of marches, overtures and popular selections, and was directed by Al Shomento. Final concert in this series will take place next Wednesday, June 30, 7:30 p. m. in Ludington park.

Before tobacco was discovered, men of the Orient were smoking spicy substances, myrrh and frankincense.
